"CAMERA UNDER THE BOOT"

A book published in French in 1963
by PRESSES DE LA CITE, PARIS.

The author ALBERT MAHUZIER was a member of the Burgundy Network

A badly wrapped package appearing to contain a roast of beef or a present of the first communion, one opening for the lens, a second for the view-finder, and a third for the shutter release, and here is the scientific instrument ready to go. Mr Gudin on the left, Mr. Mahuzier on the right start on their first clandestine picture taking tour of Paris under the occupation. The roar of the motor covered the frightful noise of this antedeluvian apparatus which could run no more than 20 seconds of film.

AT THE HEIGHT OF THE OCCUPATION THESE
3 ALLIED AIRMEN TAKE A STROLL IN PARIS

Recently a relative of the author of Camera Under The Boot wrote to the 8th Air Force News trying to locate the 3 airmen pictured above. AFEES was able to identify James Stewart as an RAF airman from Scotland, and the Pilote Américain de Minneapolis as S/Sgt Robert Peterson. At the present time we have not been able to locate any of the men but Scotty David has the ball; if they are locatable she will find them.

AFEES recently sent a Helper pin and a Certificate of Remembrance to Mr Mahuzier

Sur les quais, un aviateur américain lit avec intérêt l'affiche promettant la peine de mort à ceux qui l'ont aidé.

On the riverbank an American airman reads with interest the poster promising the death penalty to those who aide him. In the original photo the name JOHN AMERY is clearly visible on the poster. John was one of the founders of AFEES
